

Rochester Area

Saturday, March 19, 2005

LLE Building
250 E. River Rd.
Rochester, NY 14623

http://www.lle.rochester.edu/02_visitors/02_map.html

The Young Engineers Forum (YEF) is a program designed to provide young engineers and students with advice from experienced engineers and career planning specialists. The keynote address by Dr. Harvey Palmer, the Dean of Engineering at RIT, will provide a perspective of the changing global market place. Please join us for this unique opportunity to gather advice, tips and insights on getting the most out of your engineering career.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND!

- Get practical advice
- Prepare for future trends in a rapidly changing workplace
- Benefit from the experience of others
- Identify resources available to you
- Meet and network with students and practicing engineer

THE PROGRAM

9:00-9:30am Registration, Breakfast
9:30-9:45am Introductions
9:45-10:45am Financial Planning
10:45-11:45am Résumé, Interviewing, & Networking Skills
11:45-1:00pm Lunch & Facility Tour
1:00-2:00pm Keynote – Global & Multi-Disciplinary Engineering
2:00-3:00pm How to Start a Small Business
3:15-4:30pm Panel Discussion, Young Engineer's Keys to Success
4:30pm Closing words and Depart / Optional Resume Review

$15 Student ASME Members
$25 Student Non-Members
$30 Professional Members

Advanced Reservations Required

Reservations & Information

Please contact: Howard Berkof

berkofh@asme.com (585) 259-5150

Please send Payment to:

Bob Ellson

20 Dartford Rd.

Rochester, NY 14618-4204

young engineers
Leading the way